

Anvil Capital Completes Majority Recapitalization of Atlas Devices

Sept 1, 2017: Anvil Capital (www.anvilcap.com) announced today that it has made an equity investment in Atlas Devices (www.atlasdevices.com) pursuant to a majority recapitalization of the company.

Ben Giess, Managing Partner of Anvil Capital, stated “We have been tracking Atlas Devices for over two years, and we’re very impressed with the resourcefulness of the founders and the significant company they have built. We look forward to partnering with the management team and providing them with additional resources to continue the rapid growth of the business. In addition to further exploiting Atlas’s leading position in the elite military markets, there are tremendous opportunities to penetrate additional commercial markets.”

Nate Ball, CEO and Co-Founder said, “We had been approached by several parties regarding a potential transaction. Anvil Capital’s extensive operational experience allowed them to quickly grasp our business. In addition, Anvil Capital offered us a very creative and uniquely attractive structure that allows us to remain meaningfully invested in Atlas Devices going forward.”

Anvil Capital is an operationally and entrepreneurially focused private equity firm that invests in small, high potential niche manufacturing and service companies located in the Northeastern United States. The partners have a unique combination of strategic, operational and financial expertise obtained through decades of experience working with small and mid-sized businesses. Anvil Capital works closely with its portfolio companies to establish the necessary infrastructure and resources to support the growth and strategic directives of the business.