Anvil Capital Portfolio Company NE Landscape Completes Add-On Acquisition of Comak Brothers Inc

October 9, 2026: Anvil Capital (www.anvilcap.com) announced today that its portfolio company NE Landscape has completed the acquisition of Comak Brothers, Inc., marking its sixth acquisition under its landscape platform.

Established in 1978, Comak provides landscape design, maintenance and irrigation services to commercial, industrial and residential clients in the greater Boston area. Bruce Comak, Co-Founder, stated "After 48 years my brother Barry and I were looking to start the process of transitioning the business to the next phase. While we were fortunate to have many suitors, NE Landscape presented us with the perfect combination of an attractive deal structure and an experienced owner with a focus on providing excellent service to customers. I will remain as President and an equity owner, and I look forward to having more time to focus in the future on sales and further enhancing customer relationships."

Marc Fontaine, Operating Partner of Anvil Capital and Chairman of NE Landscape remarked "We have admired Comak as one of the premier landscaping companies in the North Shore, and we are delighted to have them join the NE Landscape family. Bruce, Barry and the team have built a company with an outstanding reputation, long-tenured employees and a customer service focused model. In addition to their superb maintenance and design build capabilities, they have a particular strength and presence in irrigation. Comak will be an excellent addition to our platform."

Ben Giess, Managing Partner of Anvil Capital, said "In August, NE Landscape completed a comprehensive recapitalization with Eastern Bank as our new senior lender and Seacoast Capital as our new junior capital provider. That financing gives us significant acquisition capacity, and Comak is the first of what I hope is many additional add-on acquisitions in the greater metro Boston area."

NE Landscape Holding, through its subsidiaries of Leahy Landscaping, Lynch Landscape & Tree Service, and Comak Landscaping is a full-service provider of best-in-class landscaping services to commercial, municipal and high-end residential customers throughout Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire. In addition to design, build, and maintenance offerings, the Company has specialized divisions in the areas of tree removal and pruning, plant healthcare, snow removal, and irrigation.
